Call for Challenges – Now Open!

2019 Makeathon for Assistive Technology

Do you or someone you know or love, live with a disability?
Do you have a specific physical or verbal challenge that you face on a daily basis?

We are seeking Need-Knowers (individuals living with a disability, support workers, family members, health professionals, anyone with an intimate understanding of a neglected need) to submit a challenge.

Need-Knowers will join forces with teams of Makers with a passion for social change and problem solving, to volunteer over a weekend marathon of making, to develop a solution (prototype) by the end of the Makeathon weekend. (All solutions will be available in the public domain on the TOM web platform for anyone to access and download around the world).

Take a moment, imagine what you want and dream big. Join us at TOM: Melbourne Makeathon for a life changing experience!

When: 24th – 26th May 2019
